- In the case of any technical difficulties, teachers are asked to record the attendance on paper.
- If a student is late to class and does not have a late stamp showing that they signed in at the main office, teachers are to send the student to the main office to sign in.
- If a student is regularly late to class they are to be sent to the study centre so that they are not disrupting classes.

School tours/sports events/meetings with staff

- The class tutor, year head or the teacher in charge of punctuality will put a note in the journal/Vsware/app regarding the detention and the student must make sure that it is signed by a parent/guardian.
- If a student is continually coming late to school with a note, only two notes in any one week will be accepted. After that a meeting will be arranged with the parent/guardian and the year head to discuss the problem.
- If a problem persists with punctuality the year head will discuss the situation with the student and/or the parent/guardian. The student may be placed on an internal suspension if the punctuality does not improve or if the student refuses to engage with the process.

- Besides the law it is very important for students to have continuous good attendance in the interest of progress and of fostering good attendance habits.
- If a student is absent for 20 days or more in one year the student, with the parent/guardian, will have to meet with the Principal to discuss the situation before being allowed to register for the following year. In certain circumstances this case will be brought before the Board of Management for consideration.
